

How_To_Get_Your_Signed_Release_Apk

Tutorial: How to get your 'signed' release Apk: 'AppLAMWProject1'

- 1. Edit/change the project file "keytool_input.txt" to more representative informations:"
 - .Your keystore password [--ks-pass pass] : 123456
 - .Re-enter/confirm the keystore password: 123456
 - .Your first and last name: MyFirstName MyLastName
 - .Your Organizational unit: MyDevelopmentUnit
 - .Your Organization name: MyCompany
 - .Your City or Locality: MyCity
 - .Your State or Province: MT
 - .The two-letter country code: BR
 - .All correct: y
 - .Your key password for this Apk alias [--key-pass pass]: 123456
- 2. If you are using "Ant" then edit/change "ant.properties" according, too!
 - 1. Execute the [project] command "release-keystore.bat" or "release-keystore.sh" or "release-keystore-macos.sh" to get the "applamwproject1-release.keystore"
 - warning: the file "applamwproject1-release.keystore" should be created only
 - once [per application] otherwise it will fail [and NEVER delete it!]
 - 1. [Gradle]: Edit/change the values [123456] "--ks-pass pass:" and "--key-pass pass:" in project file "gradle-local-apksigner.bat" [or .sh] according "keytool_input.txt" file
 - Edit/change the values [123456] "--ks-pass pass:" and "--key-pass pass:" in project file "gradle-local-universal-apksigner.bat" [or .sh] according "keytool_input.txt" file
 - 1. [Gradle]: Execute the [project] command "gradle-local-apksigner.bat" [.sh] to get the [release] signed Apk! OR execute "gradle-local-universal-apksigner.bat" [.sh] if your are supporting multi-architecture (ex.: armeabi-v7a + arm64-v8a + ...) hint: look for your generated "AppLAMWProject1-release.apk" in [project] folder "...\\build\\outputs\\apk\\release"
- 6. [Ant]: Execute the [project] command "ant-build-release.bat" [.sh] to get the [release] signed Apk!"
 - hint: look for your generated "AppLAMWProject1-release.apk" in [project] folder "...\\bin"
- Success! You can now upload your nice "AppLAMWProject1-release.apk" to "Google Play" [or others stores...]!
- Thanks to All!
